There are rumors that something has survived. Developing a modelling approach to probability using computer-based simulations Theodosia Prodromou in: Probabilistic CHINESE FOR CHILDREN, Dordrecht : Springer. By describing themselves as happy and systematically thematizing their own existential orientations in their research, the exponents of Positive Psychology increase the evidence of the techniques of the self they propagate, thereby sustaining the attraction of an image of the human being that explicitly projects autonomous self-tailoring as a vital ingredient of individual happiness.
